FALL 2009

SOFT OPEN HOUSE

Amherst: The Wisconsin Wool Exchange turned over the “Open” sign for the first time on October Second. We had so much fun meeting so many fiber folks and showing them our new store.

OUR HOURS

W – F 10am – 6pm

S & S 10am – 2pm

WHAT’S NEW?

Classes! On the back of this newsletter is our very first class list. With the holidays upon us, we are focusing on two things: the basics & making a few little gifts while relaxing with friends.. Come in and pre-register before these small classes fill!

Local Fibers! We are just now getting in a few local fibers. We have both natural colored & naturally dyed Icelandic Yarn from Heartbreak Farm, Amherst Wisc. It is lovely, two-ply, and warm! We also have buttery Surrey alpaca yarns in natural luster-y colors from Peaceful Acres in Custer Wisc.

Knitcircus is a new Wisconsin-produced knitting magazine. Each issue is loaded with not only knitting patterns but also crochet and sewing patters, recipes, reviews, interviews, and articles. We both love this magazine so much that at least for a while it will be our only

The Wisconsin Wool Exchange

Has a green awning & stands on Main Street between The Int'l Bank of Amherst & the OK Hardware Store, magazine. It is full of beautiful color yarn and project photos, but I swear I read it for the articles!

Wheels of Unspun Icelandic Yarn from Schoolhouse Press – Nine inspiring natural colors and nine beautifully dyed ones of the very yarn that Elizabeth Zimmermann loved and used. We also have many of their books such as The Opinionated Knitter and Handknitting With Meg Swansen.

Drop Spindles by Dan Pohl – If you’ve visited the Exchange you no-doubt remember the gorgeous chimney cabinet by local artist Dan Pohl. This is a unique opportunity to spin yarn with a piece of Dan’s artwork for under $40.

WEATHER FORECAST

Within just a matter of weeks we’ll be in the middle of full-blown wear-your-best-woolies weather. Mmm... wool.

STOP BY & CRAFT A SPELL!

SUNDAY EXCHANGE

Open Crafting! Bring your knitting, your felting, your crocheting... whatever it is that you do when chatting with other crafty folk. Join us to swap stories, work out wooly puzzles, show off, and share the loves and little frustrations of a life of needles and strings.

We’ll put on the coffee pot, so bring your cup too!

THE AMHERST FESTIVAL OF CHOCOLATE

Jensen Community Center Amherst - Saturday November 21 is the big date. Join us at the Jensen Center for “plenty of samples of chocolate, chocolate desserts, chocolate fondue, hot cocoa, and samples from the chocolate cook off available during the auction of entries.” Dr. Zorba Pastor from Wisconsin Public Radio will be there and you might want to be too!

While you’re in town, visit The Wisc. Wool Exchange to get your passport stamped, check out all our new yarn and stay late to hear Claudia Schmidt perform at the Jensen Center. More info at www.FestivalofChocolate.org
